

This Is a Part of Something Greater

Orenda Fink

... This is a part of something greater
A star will start on the inside
I held my hand out and you took it
All of your fear aliveSomething inside is holding me
At night we lay and no one
But you're a broke Jesus in the pieces
When I lick the flames at the fire yeahYou know that my life will never die
You know that my life will never die
I couldn't guess that time
In night are in death all the teacher
But you held your hand out and I took it
But you lick the flames of the fireCuz you know that my love will never die
You know that my love will never dieThere's something inside that's secret
No bent or break in space and time
I held my hand out and you took it
I held my hand to the fire
Cuz you know that my love will never die
You know that my love will never die
You know, you know my love will never die
You know that my love will never die
