

Just a Normal Day

Supertramp

Woke up crying with the break of dawn and
I looked out at the sky
The air was still, yet all the leaves were falling
And can you tell me why? Well, I just don't know the reason
I don't know what to say
It just seems a normal day And I've got to live my own life
I just can't spare the time
'Cause you've got strange things on your mind Well, I just feel that every minute's wasted
My life is unreal
And anyway I guess I'm, I'm just not rated
At leastwise, that's how I feel Well, I just don't know the reason
I don't know what to say
It just seemed a normal day Oh, and, I've got to live my own life
I just can't spare the time
You've got strange things on your mind Eat a lot, sleep a lot, passing the time of day
Maybe I'll find my way
Who am I kidding? Yes, it's just myself
