Screams from the Sanctuary

Jasta

Last night I went where dreams go to die
And I set it ablaze
The coldest thing I ever realised
That this was almost never ment to beWith every peice of my desperation
I'm drawn into the endless divide
And when i dwelt beneath the shadows
I prayed your heartache would surviveThe one thing on which i rely is the thing i would deny
Now that place is taken
You used my trust to mortifyScreams from the sanctuary
embody the deadliest sins
Believe when i stand before you
Now pray into the empty nightI prayed your heartache would survive
Survive forever
I prayed your heartache would survive
Survive forever beneath meStare into a blessed time
Of perfection and disgrace
Now that place is taken
Feel every peice of my desperationScreams from the sanctuary
embody the deadliest sins
Believe when i stand before you
Now pray into the empty nightScreams from the sanctuary
embody the deadliest sins
Believe when i stand before you
Now pray into the empty nightI prayed your heartache would survive
Survive forever
I prayed your heartache would survive
Survive forever beneath meLast night I went where dreams go to die
And I set it ablaze
The coldest thing I ever realised
That this was almost never ment to beI prayed for your heartache to survive forever
I prayed for your heartache to survive forever
