

MFE0

Jack's Mannequin

I swim across an ocean
It's my mattress in the basement
I'm sweatin' out excuses
That would make your stomach turn
The road we drove last night
Stretched from the desert
To Las Vegas
We filled our cups and lit one up
The snow began to burnMaybe
We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible
For the world to look this way forever?
I talked so much
I'm sure I didn't realize I'd gone crazy
Didn't catch my bloody nose
Or that my heart tried to explode
I still live with my High School friends
Some people never change at all
We're still the same impulsive drunks
We were when we were small
Someone get this man to a hospitalMaybe
We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible
For the world to look this way forever?
And I'm, a long way
From my firework days
But I still like to burn, burn, burn
I'm always
In the haze of a car crash
The orange airbag dust covers everything
EverythingMaybe
We were made
We were made for each other
Is it possible
For the world to look this way forever?You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe

But the air is running out
You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out on you You waited for me in the rain
In the parking lot
Cold hands
Lips blue
Clothes stuck to you
You could have phoned me for a ride
It's a mess out there you said the rain's the rain
Some air'd be good for you
(You can breathe)
(You can breathe now)
Well good for you
(You can breathe)
(But the air is running out) You get in my car
Where it's warm
You cannot forget skin new
Hands true
My hands all over you
so what's another night
The seat's rolled back, they can't see
The rain's the rain
Some air'd be good for you You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out
You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out on you And you walked for miles
Down the shores of California
To the coast of Mexico
Where you could hide
And no one had to know You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out
You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out (on you now) You can breathe

You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out
You can breathe
You can breathe now
You can breathe
But the air is running out on you
Running out on you Maybe we were made for each other
You can breathe but the air is running out
Maybe the world could look like this forever
Maybe we were made for each other
You can breathe but the air is running out
Maybe the world will look like this forever
Maybe we were made for each other
Maybe we were made for each other
Maybe we were made for each other
We were made for each... That's the record
Uh, I guess we'll keep talking
This tape's gonna run out soon
Then I'm gonna have to go buy more
And I'm a real procrastinator
So I probably won't do that for a while
So until the next time, uh
It's been uh... It's been... interesting
But I'm glad we have her done
Jack's Mannequin: Everything In Transit
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>