

New Dreams

Atomic Opera

I am paralyzed in time's confusion
The days seem to pass me by
Sometimes love feels like quiet observation
New dreams are born when old dreams die
The vision fades, it cracks and falls away
It feels like things will never change
I used to think that death would last forever
I have a new dream every day
Dream of silk or dream of gold
Dream of everything you've been told
Don't forget to dream alone
And never fear new dreams
And where I am
Inside this silent contemplation
What is broken is what remains
I used to think that hell could last forever
I have a new dream every day
Dream of silk or dream of gold
Dream of everything you've been told
Don't forget to dream alone
And never fear new dreams
Dream of silk or dream of gold
Dream of everything you've been told
Don't forget to dream alone
And never fear new dreams

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>