Start Again

Professional Murder Music

Calls my name once again (just like I thought it would)
Fight hard and take all I can
I've held back far too long, it's changed me.
I'm not the one to blame, I've watched you for to long from so far away.
It feels so strange but I think I might just start again.
Forced to think I need more. (this time it feels so strange)
I won't stop and wait like before
I've held back far too long, I can't wait.
I'm not the one to blame, I've watched you for to long from so far away.
It feels so strange but I think I just might start again.
One last time, I'll give all. This last time for you.
I've watched you for to long from so far away.
It feels so strange but I think I just might start again.
