Devil's Run

Pillowtalk

I was 18 years old on a saturday night
With the keys in my hand, and a girl that I like.
I left my hometown with a nothing to loose
A man on the run, chasing everything new.
The light in the mirror started fading away
With a chance that i'll leave
Not a chance that i'll stayChorus:
And you give
And you live
And you give 3x
And you'll liveThe light on the dash feds 75
69 miles will eat you alive
Everyones born with a license to win
People are fighting and nobody fits in.And you give
And you live
And you give 3x
but you'll liveAnd you give
Everything.. and you'll live
All the timeAnd you give
Everything.. and you'll live
All the timeI keep rocking all night with nothing to loose
Keep the peddel to them battle with the cash in my shoes
Looking for a town and i'm trying to fit in
But the people are judging caus i'm living in sin
I see the light up ahead and someones waving me down
But i keep on moving and I can't stop now.But you'll live
And you give
And you live 3x
But you give
