We Are Many

Timmy the Teeth

Our names are unimportant
Why we live, we are looking for it
What we know, we do believe in
It's the love of a friend

Now on your left side, is your brother
On your right side that's your sister
Right behind you that's your family
Right in front of you is your life to live

A simple hello, another goodbye
Woke this morning with a tear in my eye
Met the morning I was thinking about you
Wanna thank you for all the things that you do

Wanna thank you for the moon above
Wanna thank you for the stars that I love
Shine down on us now, and show us somehow
Once we've learned, you can't take it away

Our names are unimportant
Why we live, we are looking for it
What we know, we do believe in
It's the love of a friend

Now on your left side, that's your brother
On your right side that's your sister
Right behind you that's your family
Right in front of you is your life to live

Now on your left side, that's your brother
On your right side that's your sister
Right behind you that's your family
Right in front of you is your life to live

Lyrics submitted by Jennifer Lundeby.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/