One Man's Fate

Testament

Time is nothing but life's decay
Pitch your reverend path this is the path you paved
What you will find is life's only wayThere's no looking back there must be a better way
Lightning skies prayers from an open grave
A dead man's eyes must be a dead man's dayBlood style, let's pay the shower break
The darkness is so deep with what will I play
What you will find is life's only way
There's no looking back, back to a better wayLightning skies prayers from an open grave
A dead man's eyes must be a dead man's day
That leads to one man's fate
There ain't no better way to dieFate there's no compromise
Hate leads to suicide
Trapped in a crystal haze
Hail to a dead man's dayTime is but a passageway trying to believe
Your life was sanity with a matter of time
Is all that you need life's not coming back
Back to those better daysLightning skies prayers from an open grave
A dead man's eyes must be a dead man's day
That leads to one man's fate
There ain't no better way to die
