The Wild Reeds

Do you remember '95?
And how good it felt to be alive
When the world, when the world was small
I didn't fear, I didn't fear it at allHave you ever had a love that's bigger than you
Oh, how you know it when it's true
I've had a love, I've had a love like that
But it always seems to slip through my hands'Cause the only thing that saves me
Are the songs I sing, baby
You can't save me from anythingI've got pictures on my walls of all the things
That I think will bring me back my sanity
Like Paddy and my rosary
Like the ocean and the Virgin Mary
'Cause the only thing that saves me
Are the songs I sing, baby
You can't save me from anything
Not from my twisted mind nor wasted time
From Heartache or all my mistakes
Not from the world and its dark way'Cause it's not what you got
That will get you to God
No, it's not what you thought
That will get you to God
No, it's not what you got
That will get you to God
Oh, it's not what you got
That will get...
'Cause the only thing that saves me
Are the songs I sing, baby
You can't save me from anything
Not from my twisted mind nor wasted time
From Heartache or all my mistakes
Not from the world and its dark way
