

Naked As A Window

Josh Ritter

How hard for the covers to be pulled by from their slumbers
But a ghost never gives up its sheet, tell me is it the same?
For the rattlin' chains or whatever you wear when you sleep Do you remember the time
I told you to take off your clothes?
You were naked as a window But I'll take all that nothin' over nothin' at all
I'm just a hallway for ceilings and walls, babe
And emptiness all the way through You know you're askin' too much
To be held and not touched
But somehow that's just what you do Do you remember the time
I told you to take off your clothes?
You were naked as a window But I'll take all that nothin' over nothin' at all
Yeah, I'll take all that nothin' over nothin', over nothin' at all
