

Carlita

Goldfinger

Well after today I'll never see you
And you'll be left with your life
Collecting all your souvenirs
I'll never get it right Empty man hollow man
I call myself a hermit
My self esteem contingent on
The way you look at me I'm hanging on your words
Yeah I'm reading all your thoughts
If only I could be you now
'Cause you got the control Well after today I'll never see you
Collecting all your souvenirs
I'll never get it right Empty man lonely man
I call myself depressed
I'm finding ways to avoid you
At the expense of sanity I'm hanging on your words
And I'd like to share a thought
I know I can't be you now
But I'd like to stay a while Well after today I'll never see you
Collecting all your souvenirs
I'll never get it right I'm hanging on your words
Yeah I'm reading all your thoughts
If only I could be you now
'Cause you got the control Well after today I'll never see you
Well after today I'll never see, never see
Well after today I'll never see you
[Incomprehensible] and this is my goodbye
I'll never get it right, I'll never get it right
