

Vital

Anacrusis

The gentle embrace of death
    Touches my weary soul
    I'm closer to the end now
Enough despair! I'm wholeDestined to make
    The right choice
    My existence
A constant struggleSoon I will at last be free
    Of my chemical burden
    My consciousness is raised
Without society's poison[Chorus:]
    Destined to make
    I exist but
I have to feel vitalHelpless, abandoned, relentless attack
    Realize my dreams, I can't turn back
    Always doubting yet indecisive
Meandering convictions become so pensivePart of me wants to live
    I grope for a reason
    Yet I'll be granted solace
Seeming serene... open[Chorus]
