

Bringing Me Down

Drowning Pool

Every day, always the same.
I hear your name and it cuts through me like a chainsaw
And i fall back into that simple fool you always knew.
And just as soon as i let you back in
Seems I'm reminded of all of this again. Bringing me down. How much more will it take till i brake.
And i drive that stake
Right into that thing that you call your heart
Hell its fallen apart
And i don't think it works right from the start.
