Music Never Sleeps

Jason Chen

From the start I thought I knew
What I was searching for
Never thought things would come around
It get so hard when people talking steady, mocking
And it hurts when they knock you downAll my life I've just been Wandering around aimlessly
Always stuck in the background (always stuck in the background)
Am I cool enough? Why do they point a laugh at me?
Always trying to please the crowdThrough the darkest time you were my light
With me right through all the sleepless nights
Even if this is all just a fantasy
No I'll never give up the fight (never give up the fight)If they try to hold me down
And kick me to the ground
I'll get back up every day every night
My love runs deep and music never sleeps tonightSo many times I wanna runaway, so far away (yea)
Away from all the pain inside (hmm yea)
So insecure, broken and torn like paper blowing
Never knowing which way I'll fly(No-oh) Through the darkest time you were my light (woah)
With me right through all the sleepless night (through all)
Even if this is all just a fantasy
No I'll never give up the fight (never give up the fight)If they try to hold me down (try to hold me down)
And kick me to the ground (kick me to the ground)
I'll get back up every day every night
My love runs deep and music never sleeps tonightEvery second every minute every hour I
Think of how you came right in and change my life
No more running, hiding, chasing someone else's dreams
I'm going harder pushing forward
Now we got no time to sleepIf they try to hold me down (try to hold me down)
And kick me to the ground (ground)
I'll get back up every day every night
My love runs deep (my love runs deep)
And music never sleeps tonightIf they try to hold me down (try to hold me down)
And kick me to the ground (kick me to the ground)
I'll get back up every day every night
My love runs deep (my love runs deep)
and music never sleeps tonight
