

Turn The Page

Chantal Kreviazuk

I'm out here on my own
Please pick up the phone
I'm hiding from the morning inside the dead of night
You left without a warning, you left me here behind
And I'm deep inside my soul
But I can't find my way home
I'm hiding from the moment that's never far behind
Hiding from the moment that makes everything alright
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
Now I'm floating endlessly
Unpacking all my dreams
Funny how we hurry to hold the hands of time
Funny how we worry we can't control this life
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
I run, run away from, but can't turn the page
I knew it all along, you'll never try to change
