Faulter

Strung Out

do you believe there's hope for your kind, that your insatiable quest for direction will one day help you find veracity and meaning to your existence as a whole, that all your dreams of happy endings will be achieved with faith and sometimes do you feel that cold wind blowin you beyond all you think is right-- beyond all realm of human thought, beyond your foolish thinking, one step ahead is one inch closer to the end
