Into the Eye

Red Fang

I don't like what I'm feelin' and I'm falling apart Your floor is my ceiling until I can't see your face any more.You rise high above me and signal the end the mirror ignores me and now I just want this day to end.We got hell, we need seed see the light when you drink what i bleed we got gods, that you know now in darkness our numbers will growThe days pass unending a scratch at the door I just keep pretending that I can't see your face anymoreTheir eyes are upon me I've been chased to the end
They draw me in slowly
Until I don't have a face anymoreWe got hell, we got seed
See the light when you drink what I bleed
There you are, bent so low
In our arms now we reap what we sowThere was no need to worry
My soul is a star
They always surround me and now I can't see your face anymore
