My Best Mistake (No More Chances)

Count The Stars

I may never sleep knowing you're out there, crack a smile so i know you still care, me and your window, why it never closed, staying til i couldn't say goodnight You'll always be my best mistake, stay far awayThere's nothing I can say, that could make you want to stay, so throw your life away, now that you have no more chances, you, it's always about you, and all you have to prove, now that you have no more chancesI may never breathe if I hold my breath, waiting til you come to your senses, just like it began I fell into your hands, cross my heart I never fall again
