Last Meal

Project 86

I am lost inside your layering
Allowed you to lure me here
You promised immortality
I've become your newest meat
And I am ripe for the feast
Now I am dripping form their mouths
As they say to me
We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
The lust for blood within reach
We've woken under your feet
No longer frightened by these vampires
This situation is clear
No longer clouded by fear
Like cornered dogs we'll turn
And bite the hand that feeds but does not kill
We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
Sleep and dream, hiding from the day
Pay no mind to shapes that wind
Around you where you lay
Parasites come in many shapes
(There will be time for waking)
And you forgot that we have teeth too
While you were feeding off our blood
(There will be time for taking)
We became one of you
There is something coming
That you forgot my friend
The very beast that you create
Is the one who'll slay you in the end
Two, three, four
You thought I'd go down easy
But now you're coming with me
With me, with me, you'll burn with me, go

We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
We'll eat what's left of you before we're through
(You'll never take us alive)
(You'll never take us alive)
We'll eat what's left of you, oh
(You'll never take us alive)
(You'll never take us alive)
You'll never take us alive
