

untitled 7

Brand New

We take it easy
Tigers in a cage
Pacing on our pads and waiting For the town to come in revelry
Our lazy bones ache for a tearing Can't hold on to the thrill
So I hope you find your will to follow through
What we invented I am now ending
Hold on to who you love
We have triumphed on like doves
Since we were young
What we invented I am now ending The closest thing we had to loyalty
A chance to break our parents pattern
You chose to keep your teenage tragedy
In lieu of a romantic palace Lay tender like a newborn baby would Lay tender till the night is over
I'm leaving you to nurse your cherished wounds
And cover it just like your lover, yeah Can't hold on to the thrill
So I hope you find your will to follow through
What we invented I am now ending
Hold on to who you love
We have triumphed on like doves
Since we were young
What we invented I am now ending The morning's over, the day is in full swing.
