

Im Changed (feat. Jeremy Rosado)

Schyler Dixon

So many times I've found myself feeling so ashamed
Yelling out loud, but nobody listens, nobody hears me
Why can't they see me standing on broken ground? But that's when You whispered
You reached out Your hand, Lord
And You pulled me through You're my forever
You're my surrender
My comforter, You give me peace through all this pain
You're my redeemer and You are my healer
The light that shines in the midst of all my shame
Lord, through You I know I'm changed
I am changed I was so wrapped up, looking for answers in all the wrong places
But that's when You whispered
You called me by name, Lord
And here in my broken Is where You pulled me through You're my forever
You're my surrender
My comforter, You give me peace through all this pain
You're my redeemer and You are my healer
The light that shines in the midst of all my shame
Lord, through You I know I'm changed
I am changed I know I've been broken
I know I've been scarred
I know I've been lost, Lord
Without You in my heart
But You heal the broken
And You heal the scarred
And You mend the pieces
Of my heart But that's when You whispered
You called me by name, Lord
And here in my broken is where you pulled me through You're my forever
You're my surrender
My comforter, You give me peace through all this pain
You're my redeemer and You are my healer
The light that shines in the midst of all my shame
Lord, through You I know I'm changed
I am changed
