Say Goodbye to Little Jo

Steve Forbert

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Just say goodbye to little Jo
Just turn her loose now let her go
And she'll be leavin' while the sun goes down
She doesn't love ya anymoreSometimes it's worth it to talk
Some wounds are easy to heal
Sometimes it's all in your mind
Uh but this time it's big and it's realGold turnin' back into night
This time you can't make her stay
Don't try to block her in pain
Or don't try to stand in her wayJust say goodbye to little Jo
Just turn her loose now let her go
And she'll be leavin' while the sun goes down
She doesn't love ya anymoreShe tried to take ya somewhere
Somewhere you needed to be
Ya howl and ya curse at the gate
'Til she tried to give you the keyYou got no right to her love
You with your bloody hot brain
Aw, don't try to suck her back in
No one could make her remainJust say goodbye to little Jo
Just turn her loose now let her go
She'll be leavin' ya while the sun goes down
She doesn't love you anymoreSay goodbye, she's gonna let it all unwind
Say goodbye, she'll leave it all behind
She's meant to be gone let her leave without fighting
Rollin' away down the lineYou've shown so much of your hate
She's seen so much of your greed
She's taken shit for so long, yes, yes
You ain't got nothin' she needsYou don't deserve her no how Go fading back into fate
Go sit ya down where ya were
Don't grab and beg it's too lateJust say goodbye to little Jo
Just turn her loose man, let her go

She'll be leavin' while the sun goes down
She doesn't love you anymoreShe doesn't love ya anymore
She doesn't love ya anymore
She doesn't love you anymore
