

Transform

DJ Earl-e

Do you understand?

It's not too late

Oh yeahHow come everything is not like it used to be?

And how come everything is never the same?

Your head spins turns around a look of confusion

This can't be real, I think it's only a gameThey said there's one way to go and one way to be

Even I can't believe in those wordsThe truth is there is no truth

Mystified can't compute

Well, I said forget about

Everything you've heardYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't lastHow come everything is not like it used to be?

And how come everything is never the same?

There you wanna, gonna get first time, last place

Nothing stays the same here including your nameI've seen it all twice before, they try to be original

Disappoint the way of the worldThe truth is there is no truth

Mystified can't compute

Well, I said forget about

Everything you've heardYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't lastOh yeah, mama

Be your right man that's the truthHey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey

Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, heyWhat's the meaning?

You all must be dreaming to want the meaning of life

I heard you screaming to know the meaning

To know the meaning of lifeYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't lastYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't lastYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't lastYou won't last that long

You won't last that long

You might as well transform

You won't last, you won't last

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>