Title True confessions

Lyric text

He come walkin', he come talkin'

And his smile took my heart away

Dancin' eyes... hypnotized

And the look that he gave me

Was more than words could say He only wanted my shoulder to cry on

He only wanted my love for a while

I was lookin' for someone to rely on

I traced his heart from his smile

Lyrics courtesy Lyricsvault.net The stars were fallin' in every direction

The moon was rockin' back and forth in the sky

Modern day lovers with true confessions

Written in their eyes

Written in their eyes

Mornin' came and lit the flame

We were wrapped around a blanket of love

In a brand new day

Love came in

Where you been?

Now that we're together

We'll never be alone again Written in their eyes.
