La Bien Querida

I was awakened, by the sound of your voice.
Just after midnight, when there wasn't any noise.
I went to my window, but you weren't there.

I'm dreaming that you still care.
Dreaming that you still care.
That you think about me sometimes out there.
But by the light of day, those dreams all fade away.
Cause you've gone away to stay.

I was awakened, by the thought of your touch.
Just after midnight, when I miss it so much
I whispered your name, but you weren't there.

I'm dreaming that you still care.
Dreaming that you still care.
That you think about me sometimes out there.
But by the light of day, those dreams all fade away.
Cause you've gone away to stay.
You've gone away to stay.
