Grin

The Gerbils

Absent in the things Ive done for the real
Revelations come to people so slow, frightening
Wont stop now before theyre done
Peel their skin eaten underneath, rotten, rottenDrowning in understanding
Swallowed poison keeps them well
Watching the others struggle through makes me grin
Should I tell the mindless stumbling through that I have found it?Watching all the things theyve done this is real
Revolution comes from misguided hands, frightening
And in all the idiots I see
Thoughtless men casting doubts on me, enlighteningDrowning in understanding
Swallowed poison keeps them well
Watching the others struggle through makes me grin
Should I tell the mindless stumbling through that I have found it?Turn the vice once slowly break your hand
Will it come back to you now just like it never left?Drowning in understanding
Swallowed poison keeps them well
Watching the others struggle through makes me grin
Should I tell the mindless stumbling through that I have found it?Peel away their faith, their fears
Have led them towards the worse one
See the way their minds have glazed
Theyre looking for the worst one but I have found it
