Darkened Highlight

Altaria

How wolves are howling
In the forest of moonlight
The fallen hero looking for
The reason to some lies
And the lightning sets the universe aflame

At the rainbows end we find
The treasure of our dreams
The soul survivor getting closer
To the secret, of the king
To live forever more

Fading lights remind me of the misery
And the darkened highlight
They disguise with all the ancient mystery
And the darkened highlight finds a way to shine

Tortured souls are calling
From the dungeons of the night
A dreamer realize to late
The race is just begun
And the thunder roars, the earth, the rain awaits

Destination, no-one knows
With a voice inside screams GO
Pack your bags and leave again
The altars calling you

To live forever more

Fading lights remind me of the misery
And the darkened highlight
They disguise with all the ancient mystery
And the darkened highlight finds a way to shine

Face of evil laughing at the destiny
Of the darkened highlight
While the night gives birth to dreadful fantasies
And the darkened highlight finds a way to shine

Finds a way to shine

Fading lights remind me of the misery
And the darkened highlight
They disguise with all the ancient mystery
And the darkened highlight finds a way to shine

Face of evil laughing at the destiny
Of the darkened highlight
While the night gives birth to dreadful fantasies
And the darkened highlight finds a way to shine
