

Throw the First Stone

Black Veil Brides

Sitting on your throne you rest your pretty bones
Don't act like you're alive
Take another chance to do this on my own
But you will let it die
Feels like a lifetime living in this pain
A whole world passes me by Losing the daylight but I must admit
That you're suiting for this lie
Another lie We will fight back through your broken past and your vanity
Throw the first stone
We will arrive through a hollow rust till you don't believe
Fear, hate, love
Take it to your grave
Fear, hate, love
Take it to your grave Everyday you grind your teeth and spit out blood
Dripping down from your own life
Swinging from the axe it crashes and it hits
So I'm not even trying
Even trying We will fight back through your broken past and your vanity
Throw the first stone
We will arrive through a hollow rust till you don't believe
Say goodbye to the world you know
Say goodbye to your mask of hope
We will fight back through your broken past and your vanity
Throw the first stone
Save your words this only time
To kill the way you made me
So save your words, I'm moving on
There's only hate within me
You're finally my enemy
The time has come for you to know
Just save your words this only time
To kill the life you gave me
I won't go back We will fight back through your broken past and your vanity
Throw the first stone
We will arrive through a hollow rust till you don't believe
Say goodbye to the world you know
Say goodbye to your mask of hope
We will fight back through your broken past and your vanity Fear, hate, love

Take it to your grave
Fear, hate, love
Take it to your grave
