Sampo

Amorphis

Sparks sent flying, my mind thundering
The room of my heart flashing to the sky
The flaring of fumes fill my senses
Pervade this room and this spaceThe days they blend into the nights
The moon, the sun unite
Order of stars expires
A wonder is bornI listen and aim, I observe
I use all the forces and let it transpire
I confront the darkness absolute
And blinding, dazzling brillianceFrom roaring flames the shapes emerge
Come forth they do with vile charms
Their poisoned core hides in beauty
But I see and perceive their deceit, I see
