

Life In Hell

The Woolen Men

I don't belong here in this place
I don't belong here with you
They tell me theres a reason why we all have to die
But I don't know if its true
A confession that I make
I can no longer see the shape of the thing
Somethings happening in my brain
Somehow I forgot
I forgot how to tie the knot
I forgot how to tie the knot
You can work hard if you'd like
It doesn't mean that you will live
We've never seen who holds the cards
Or how this stories gonna end
Too late
I went to heaven in a boat
But I couldn't stay for very long
Though they taught me all the notes
Somehow I forgot
I forgot how to sing the song
I forgot how to sing the song
The potential thats in me
Is the potential thats in you
Maybe someday we'll meet again in a different life
And then we'll both know what to do
Too late
