

Like a Military Coup

Morcheeba

When the tower tumbled, we began anew
Had no time for warning, only deja vu
It comes flashing back, then just fades to black
All gone All the land rejoices, now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
Theres no inspiration like a military coup Children blowing kisses, strangers to the truth
Carrying the wishes of a bygone youth
Bye bye cabaret, sci-fi agony
All gone All the land rejoices, now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
Theres no compensation like a military coup
