Everything Reminds Me Of You

Soul Embraced

[Jewel]
I walk around the room
It's funny how these silly things remind me of you
And I have this hole in my chest
But I guess you know me good enough that you know the rest

[Jewel & Joe Firstman]
If it makes it all right,
I'll spend the night with you dear
Only reappear
Cause everything remind me of you
And That's just gonna take a little getting used to
That's just gonna take a little getting used to

[Joe Firstman]
And when I had to ask you why,
I'd remind you of what you said to me
And how you said it to me that night.
And if you had to ask me when,
I'd remind you of how you kissed me
When I held you back then

[Jewel & Joe Firstman]
But if it makes it all right,
I'll spend the night with you dear
Only reappear
Cause everything reminds me of you
And that's just gonna take a little getting used to
That's just gonna take a little getting used to

[Jewel]
Love is built kiss by kiss
Just like a house, brick by brick,
So it has to be undone

[Joe Firstman]
And you got your sad eyes to hide behind
And you got your lies and Lord knows that I've got all mine

[Jewel & Joe Firstman]

If it makes it all right,
I'll spend the night with you dear
We should never disappear
Cause everything reminds me of you
And that's just gonna take a little getting used to
Cause everything reminds me of you
And that's just gonna take a little getting used to
That's just gonna take a little getting used to
