

Duende (Spanish Version)

Burning Image

What is wrong? Am I hearing things?
Did I just hear someone's voice calling me?
I'll make sure that I'm not alone or to fend for myself in this unhappy home
He'll take pity on my damaged soul
He's the one that cares for you when I'm all alone
Heed my words for what I say is true
He's the one they call duende and he waits for you Walls fall and you beg for mercy
No one sees me, I don't really care
End all of your petty hatred in the land of the dead no one really cares I need my soul to be at peace
I am stuck in this void with all who are deceased
I'll be there to torment your home
I am duende to you and you are not alone Conquer your fear, if you dare
I will find you I promise I'll be there
I swear What is wrong? Am I hearing things?
Did I just hear someone's voice calling me?
I'll make sure that I'm not alone
Or to fend for myself in this unhappy home Conquer your fear, if you dare
I will find you I promise I'll be there
I'll make sure you don't stay another day in this unhappy home
