Broken Stairway

Martin Page

We've played the final game, now we both remain
Froze beneath your jealous sky
Lord knows I fear to tread, I see no steps ahead
Suspicion burns out all the lightsOn a broken stairway
Is this where our love will stay?
On a broken stairway
We say goodbyeSilence corrodes the air, I guess we can't repair
The cracks that run right through our lives
All of the tears you fake are abandoned here halfway
Between the truth between the liesOn a broken stairway
Foundations rock and sway
On a broken stairway
We say goodbye
