

Only Those in Love

Chad & Jeremy

Stuart-Alquist Let me tell you of a girl I know
She belonged to me a short while ago
I was happy just to hold her hand
But only those in love would understand Happiness and joy I never knew
Filled my heart when she came into view
I was living in a wonderland
That only those in love would understand Why she left me I will never know
How can I go on without her
When I love her so?
I love her so
She was more than all the world to me
Now my world is empty as can be
Everybody sees a lonely man
But only those in love would understand
