

Remember

Emilie Autumn

Like a dream I had in subconscious deep
Here you come again only in my sleep
And I remember you
I remember you Like a memory of a time gone by Many things I've seen still I can't deny
That I remember you
Yes I remember the things you do to me When you say my name
When you hold my hand
When you whisper in my ear the things
That only you could understand
When you say my name
When you hold my hand
When you touch me softly in the way
That only you can do
I remember you
I remember you Every other touch runs as cold as ice
If I get too close I may pay the price
But I remember you
Yes I remember the things you do to me When you say my name
When you hold my hand
When you whisper in my ear the things
That only you could understand
When you say my name
When you hold my hand
When you touch me softly in the way
That only you can do
I remember you I would recognize your shadow in a crowded room
Change your name a million times, it wouldn't change my mind
Or what I hope to find in your heart underneath
In a new rhythm I breathe 'cause I remember you
I remember you
I remember you
I remember you
Yes I do When you say my name
When you hold my hand
When you whisper in my ear the things
That only you could understand
When you say my name
When you hold my hand

When you touch me softly in the way
That only you can do
(Repeat) I remember you
I remember you
I remember you
And I want you to say my name
I remember you
And I want you to say my name
Say my name
Say my name
Say my name...I remember
