People change

People change

People...In the glow of a faint projector, in a lecture hall

Sits a man with a pen and pencil, staring at the wall

He was always a perfect pupil, now he fails so strange HOW DID I END UP THIS WAY? People change

People...In the back of a subway station, in a bathroom stall

Sits a man with an old grey trenchcoat, staring at the wall

He was such a devoted husband, but he could not stay

HOW DID I END UP THIS WAY? People change

People change

People change
