

Smile

Remy Zero

I may not smile as you turn and walk away
My heart just falls on every words you say
Well I will not fight
'Cause you will not listen And though I never led my troops to war
And though I never learned what my life was for
And all I ever got was nothing
'Cause you always said one day You always said, "Soon I'll do it"
You always said, "Now but waited"
Now you've waited to long, waited to long
I thought you was right 'Cause I knew I was wrong
Well you can cry if you want, cry if you want
I will hang in myself, myself, myself I will return as a brilliant shining light
The things I've said will all be proven right
One failure one night
And you're whole life's wasted And though you never led your troops to war
And though you never learned what your life was for
And all I ever gave you was nothing
'Cause I always said one day I always said, "Soon I'll do it"
I always said, "Now but you waited"
Now you've waited to long, waited to long
Thought I was weak but proved I was strong Now you can cry if you want it, cry if you want
You can you hang in yourself, yourself, yourself You can cry if you want
I could cry if I want
We can cry if we want, want
Lets stop hanging ourselves
