You're Turning Into John Wayne

Twin Atlantic

I've never been to America,
It's time that I learned the truth, the truth,
'Cause I just heard of a river,
All cultures spreads and then they pollute, they pollute.

Please try, don't take it personal,
'Cause I'm only going on the blatant proof,
So when I breathe your air,
Do you believe you're changing the earth?
Do you believe you're changing the earth?

Welcome to America,
They all say, that your dreams can't last forever,
But your heart can never stay,
Why do we imitate, all we love to hate?
So if there's one thing I wanna know,
It's how you feel about being American, American.

Every time there's a story,
I turn around, you're turning into John Wayne,
You're turning into John Wayne,
Now here's a grey Scottish theory,
Have you lost latitude and longitude?
Your latitude and longitude.

Now I know that I'm contradicting
Everything I own was made in the US of A,
Made in the USA

So when I breathe your air,
Do you believe you're changing the earth?
Do you believe you're changing the earth?

Welcome to America,
They all say, that your dreams can't last forever,
But your heart can never stay,
Why do we imitate, all we love to hate?
So if there's one thing I wanna know,
It's how you feel about being American, American.

You're turning into John Wayne,
Are you made in the USA?

Welcome to America,
They all say, that your dreams can't last forever,
But your heart can never stay,
Why do we imitate, all we love to hate?
So if there's one thing I wanna know,
It's how I feel about being American,
American.
