Saviour

Halford

I'm set to paralyze I'm older so I'm wise I have been crucified With words personifiedHere I am now, I'm your savior There can be only one I'm the master, past and future Now the end has begunI've always stood alone Your time got overgrown Those words shot way too wide No hate can take my prideHere I am now, I'm your savior You can see I'm the one There's no reason, for such treason Now your end has begunHere I am now, I'm your savior There can be only one I'm the master, past and future Now the end has begunHere I am now, I'm your savior You can see I'm the one There's no reason, for such treason Now your end has begun
