No Way Home (Radio Edit)

Richard Durand

i hear your call your lips wont move there's so much hurt so much past i touch your heart,
your tenderness,
i met your fate, its your spellif you falter, if you fail
you found yourself
in a lonely place
emotions under strain again
you are,
unsteady unwilling
no way home
no way out
left withoutlost that place
deep in your heart
no way outslow to learn,
you give your heart
you have no doubt
have no fear
so clear, so soft
and such a mess
we're standing still,
standing firmif you falter if you fail you found yourself in a lonely place emotions under strain again.
you are unsteady, unwilling
no way home
no way out
deep in your heart
no way home
no way out
