

Electric Bloom

Foals

This is a warning shot
Your final call
An empty morgue
With gurning hearts
Hollowed crowns
And all I see
Is marching bands
Is marching bands
Marching bands
Which never rest
In broken stands
Butcher birds
With useless throats
With useless throats
We're not safe
Of dying kings
With plastic knives
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another hospital
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
Captains made
With metal tags
Flags brought down
Of hollowed crowns

It's everything
Without a time
It's just a
It's just a
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
Goodbye all

Your marching bands
Laid to rest
In broken stands
Butcher birds
Will fly away
Will fly away
Will fly away
This is not
A warning call
Your final shot
All I see
Is butcher birds
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
