

All's Well That Ends Well

Audiostrobelight

Well I don't want to feel this way anymore
Like I've been washed down the drain
Straight through the pipes, into the floor
And giving up is something I've always done best
Throwing years and years away
Two shots directly through the chest but it's time for change No more arguing, no more lying eyes
I've been floundering for months
These old chords are my disguise All's well that ends well
I've given up on the past, if you couldn't tell
I don't wanna think everyone is just like him
But I could be alright admitting it
Well I don't wanna be your fair weather friend
How could you make me feel so worthless?
How could you throw me off the edge of it?
And even if I didn't mean to, I forgot you Rather, I forgot who you were
I won't forget what you've become Come on, give me a reason All's well that ends well
I've given up on the past, if you couldn't tell
I don't wanna think everyone is just like him
But I could be alright admitting
All's well that ends well
I've given up on the past, if you couldn't tell
I don't wanna think everyone is just like him
But I could be alright admitting That I've got some problems
That I may have taken this too far
That it may have been hasty to throw this away
All's well that ends well
I've given up on the past, if you couldn't tell
I don't wanna think everyone is just like him
But I could be alright admitting
All's well that ends well
I've given up on the past, if you couldn't tell
I don't wanna think everyone is just like him
But I could be alright admitting it
