Menwith Hill

The Chevin

Hold on
To the edge of the world
To end of the rope
With a heart full of hope
I cant look when I see you online
Thinking how you were mine
And who's on your mind

So I run
To the carnival lights
Where the white horses ride
To the songs in the night

I hear a melody from signals in the sky
Under the covers where the wires intertwine
Come with me honey to the colors our your mind
Science and satellites and Saturn fill the sky
Over the town our stars collide

But where's the sun gone from your eyes
Oh I'll take you back to menwith hill
One million hearts in a line
And all they do is cry
As the moon multiplies
Whats dead?
When you got ghosts inside your head
Let the band start to pound
To the old gospel sound

I hear a melody from signals in the sky
Under the covers where our wires intertwine
Come with me honey to the colors in your mind
Science and satellites and Saturn fill the sky
Over the town our stars collide
But where's the sun gone from your eyes

Oh I'll take you down
To where the world don't make no sound
Oh honey I was blind
To keep counting

Till the end of time
Till the end of time
Is everything going to be ok?
