

Horses in the Sky

A Silver Mt. Zion

[Foreign content]After all, they made them robed
Repeating all to live in her wall[Foreign content]Something to show me a change
You're wearing a mask from the night before
She's going places she should have never been
She should have never beenAfter all, they made them robed
Repeating all to live in her wallSomething to show me a change
You're wearing a mask from the night before
She's going places she should have never been
She should have never beenSomething to show me a change
You're wearing a mask from the night before
She's going places she should have never been
She should have never beenSomething to show me a change
You're wearing a mask from the night before
She's going places she should have never been
She should have never been

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>