

Pretending I Don't Care

Rhonda Vincent

My days are so lonely, my nights are so blue
Though my heart is broken, it belongs to you
Of misery and sorrow, well, I've had my share
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care You pretend to be happy, gay and carefree
But I know that sometimes you still think of me
Just bein' without you I can't hardly bear
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care My days are so lonely, my nights are so blue
Though my heart is broken, it belongs to you
Of misery and sorrow, well, I've had my share
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care I pray for the power to forget and forgive
That you ever hurt me the way that you did
Oh, I shouldn't want you but the feelin's still there
And like you I'm pretending that I don't care My days are so lonely, my nights are so blue
Though my heart is broken, it belongs to you
Of misery and sorrow, well, I've had my share
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care Like you I'm pretending that I don't care
