Deadman's Gun.

Ashtar Command

Your hands upon
A deadman's gun, and you're
Lookin' down the sightsYour heart is warm
And the seams are torn, and they've
Given you a reason to fightAnd you're not gonna take
What they've got to give
And you're not gonna let 'em take your will to live
Because they've taken enough
And you've given them all you can give
And luck won't save them tonight
They've given you a reason to fightAnd all the storms you've been chasin'
About to rain down tonight
And all that pain you've been facin'
About to come into the lightYour hands upon
A deadman's gun, and you're
Lookin' down the sightsYour heart is warm
And the seams are torn, and they've
Given you a reason to fightAnd you're not gonna take
What they've got to give
And you're not gonna let 'em take your will to live
Because they've taken enough
And you've given them all you can give
And luck won't save them tonight
They've given you a reason to fightAnd all the storms you've been chasin'
About to rain down tonight
And all that pain you've been facin'
About to come into the light
