Don't You Worry

We Are The In Crowd

You think you spent the best of your life
Like a puppet on a string
You think you got, none of it right
And there's no time left to change
So many memories
They're all so bittersweet
So many avenues
Back to where we wereDon't you worry about a thing
You're just lost inside a scream
Don't blow it, and make your life
Nothing less than you could own it
Make it right, Nothing less than you should be
Don't you worry about a thing
My sisterYou taught me what was wrong and what's right
And you're proof of what it means
To be lost alone in plain sight
Things are never what they seemWhy can't you ever see
It's always bittersweet
The only avenue
Back to where we wereDon't you worry about a thing
You're just lost inside a scream
Don't blow it, and make your life
Nothing less than you could own it
Make it right, Nothing less than you should be
Don't you worry about a thing
My sisterDon't tell me
You're fading
You've got so much that you could beDon't tell me
It's hopeless
You're the only reason you should needDon't tell me
You're fading
You've got so much that you could beDon't tell me
It's hopeless
You're the only reason you should needDon't you worry about a thing
You're just lost inside a scream
Don't blow it, and make your life
Nothing less than you could own it
Make it right, Nothing less than you should be
Don't you worry about a thing

My sister
