

Let's Go to War

Manic Street Preachers

All the complications, all the deviations
All the holy edicts, all the broken subjects Let's go to War! (x3)
To feel some pureness and pain
We need to go to war again! Working class skeletons lie scattered in museums
And all the false economies, speak falsely of your dreams (Chorus) The views they will not darken
The knives they will not sharpen
The shutters will come down again
So don't forget we love you still (Chorus) Let's go to war! (x3)
